For solitude just one hour north of San Francisco, sea lovers head to the shores of Tomales Bay for this 1930s restored complex of "fabulous" nautically themed cottages (some on pilings set over the beach, one fashioned from an old boathouse) with wood-burning fireplaces, plasma televisions, WiFi and bathrooms with deep-soaking tubs and heated marble floors; breakfast is delivered to your door each day, and the "great" on-site restaurant focuses on local, sustainable seafood.
